LESS HUMIDITY, CONFESSED THIEVES.

Yorkers To-Day.

Blight Showers Predicted for Late Austin, Nichols & Co. Victimized to This Afternoon.

Sergt. Dunn was not at his post this morning, shedding coolness and gladness on the feverish students of the weather. So if there is a "mixed lot," a sort of "bargain counter" amortment of weather to-day, it must be ascribed to the Sergeant's presence in the courts, where he hied at an early hour with the meteorological records.

Mr. S. M. Blandford smilingly threw himself into the breach, and set up the weather record for the benefit of THE EVENING WonLD young man.

The weather in New York to-day."he said sirily. "was 72 degrees at 8 o'clock A. M. There is only a moderate supply of humidity in the atmosphere to-day, 75 de-

'The hottest place in the country is Key West, 32 degrees; the coolest is Marquette, Mich., which is 50. Fort Assiniboine has to take a back seat to-day, or rather second place, for it is 52 degrees there. Manitoba is 68. That is positively warm for Manitoba. Then New Orleans is 76; Galveston and Corpus Caristi, 80; Jacksonville, 78; St. Louis, 72; Memphis, Tenn., 78; Boston, 72, and Oblicago, 58. engo, 58. Think of that for Chicago," said Mr.

"Think of that for Chicago," said Mr. Blandford warmly.

"The Pacific stope reports haven't come in. I don't know why," in answer to a preparatory pucker of the reporter's lips.

"All along the Mississippi Valley it is going to be hot.

"The wind is about fifteen miles an hour from the south. Probably it will veer around to the southwest by the afternoon. It is a good day for 'single stickers' down the bay.

"The probabilities for this afternoon are in the direction of slight, showers, for there is a falling barometer. To-morrow, I think, will be fair."

"What is Sergt. Dunn doing in court?" inquired the reporter, curiously, thinking that the judges regulated the weather there.

"Oh he has to go to court almost as often as a lawyer," said Mr. Blandford. "Suits come up which have to be settled by the weather trecord.

weather record.

'A contractor falls to do a job. He says he couldn't; that 'the weather would not permit.'

Then they call for Sergt. Dunn and his charts to see what the weather was for that day and hour, and generally that settles the case."

Hereafter, if it strikes anybody that the weather is badly assorted or seems to have gone to the "demnition bow-wows," the inference will be that Sergt. Dunn is in court with a back number of the meteorological

Bergt. Dunn Leaves His Post to Appear Three Arrests Made and All Confess

Vantine & Wehrman, who keep a well-apointed little grocery at 37 Spring street have been huving $25 sugar at $10 and $12 barrel for the past three years.

Colin Vantine, the senior member of the firm, is now under lock and key in Chief Inspector Byrnes's strong-box at Police Head-

So are Henry Mahler, of 44 South Sixth street; George H. Coggswell, of 144 Division avenue, and Thomas O'Brien, all Brooklyn

Mahler was receiving clerk at the big wholesale grocery house of Austin, Nichols & Co., Hudson and Jay streets. Coggswell was a driver for the Brooklyn Sugar Refining Company, and O'Brien was a mutual friend of all three of his fellow-prisoners.

Shortly after Thurber, Whyland & Co. ferreted out the wholesale fraud by some of their employees last Fall, by which they had been the victims of systematic robbery by theft, fraud and forgery, Austin. Nichols & Co. discovered that their shipping cierk, William Houston, had been permitting one of their truck drivers to carry away with each load an extra barrel of sugar, which he sold cheap to small grocer at Broome and Ridge streets. Houston and the driver got eighteen sonths each at Sing Sing in Recorder Smyth's Court, and the grocer only escaped by disappearing and leaving his bondsmen in the lurch.

Austin, Nichols & Co. felt that there were other crooks in their employ, and Inspector Byrnes set Detectives Heidelberg, Dolan and reel to ferret them out.

The result was the arrest of the four worthies named above.

For three years, according to the confession of Vantine. Mabler and Coggwell, they have, with O'Brien, been systematically awinding the firm with O'Brien, been systematically swinding the firm.

Mahler, as receiving clerk, receipted for all the refined sugar trucked over from the Brooklyn Refinery by Coggswell. Coggswell sold from five barrels out of a truckload up to the whole load itself to Vantine, at from $10 to $12 a barrel, O'Brien assisting in the delivery, while Coggswell went on to Austin, Nichola & Co.'s to get his receipt signed by Mahler.

delivery, while Coggswell went on to Austin, Nichols & Co.'s to get his receipt signed by Mahler.

Valentine paid cash on delivery for the sugar, and Coggswell, who made a clean breast of the whole matter when arrested, says that during the three years of this peculiar copartnership the firm has been robbed of $50 barrels of granulated cut-loaf sugar, worth about $8,000: and, for which, by arrangements made between Mahler and Colin Vantine, they received about $4,000, which they divided equally, less the amounts paid to O'Brien for his work, which was usually about $1 a barrel.

Mahler corroborates this story in every part, and O'Brien is said to have turned State's evidence.

Mr. McCarthy, of the firm of Austin, Nichols & Co., says. 'Our business is so large that an annual loss of $6,000 to $8,000 worth of goods might be attributed to shrink, age, leakage and waste, but this thievery, being all in sugar, was more easily detected, 'We placed implicit trust in Henry Mahler, who had been our receiving clerk for six years. Now he says he originated this scheme, proposed it to Coggswell and made arrangements with Vantine to act as the fence and receiver of the stolen goods."

All the prisoners will be arraigned in the Tombs Police Court to-day.

HER BABE OUT OF THE FLOOD

JOHNSTOWN MOTHER FINDS HER DAR-LING AT A DIME MUSEUM.

Hearts Cheered and Minds and Bodies Strengthened by a Day of Rest in Conemaugh Valley - Pillagers of Deserted Houses to Be Dealt With in a Prompt and Summary Fashion.

ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 17. - The people of th onemaugh Valley, after a day of rest, the first since the month of June began, resumed work this morning with heart, mind and body re freshed and strengthened. Services after the manner of six denomins ions of worshippers were held in all parts of Johnstown and the boroughs yesterday. The boom of dynamite was silenced for a day and the click of the hammer, the drill and the pickage were not heard. The peaceful silence of this scene of recent battle was soothing and restful.

But last night 150 barrels of petroleum were emptied upon the debris at the bridge, now livided by a channel twenty feet wide, through which by a channel twenty feet wide, through which the little river flow on as quietly as of old, and the piles were ignited.

It made a grand bondre, the flames leaping high in air and consuming the fuel greedily.

The 3, 600 men at work on the tracks of the Pennsylvania Railway took no rest, and the double tracks of steel will be completed to Altoona, again connecting the valley with the Eastern world, by Wednesday.

The State Board of Health is making a thorough survey of the valley, physicians and experienced health officers performing the work, which is an invaluable help to Ality Gon.

ough survey of the valley, physicians and experienced health officers performing the work, which is an invaluable help to Adjt.-Gen. Hastings in directing his immense force of laborers, who are cleaning house on a gizantic scale.

There is no increase of sickness, the Red Cross Society and other hospital and charity organizations on the ground are sufficient for this work, and the valley is beginning to resume its normal business tone.

The scene at the Casino Museum, when Mrs. Jennic Moore claimed the babe which lad floated down the rivers and survived the Johnstown flood, was pathetic in the extreme.

The mother said: "All I can recollect is that I had out my baby in the cradle and was doing my work. When the water came it must have swept my darling and the crib out of the door. Of what happened to me I have not the slightest recollection.

"My brother-in-law, John McCluskey, of

Of what happened to me I have not the slightest recollection.

"My brother-in-law, John McCluskey, of Kansas City, came to see if any of us were alive. He found me at Wheeling, where I had taken refuge after having been rescued. He was attracted by the advertisement of the baby and brought me here to see it. I found that it is my lost darling. My husband and five-year-old boy are dead."

Burgess Harell said to-day: "I will soon fill the lockup with people who have been filling their houses with valuables from the wreekage. They are not all Huns, either, but plenty of Americans are among them.

"I saw people who would not steal a pin go into some of the finest houses and carry away valuables by the armful. They did not stop to think of what they were loing, but the law would not excuse them on that point."

A Mounted Chase for Negroes.

ISPECIAL TO THE WORLD, I BASTROP, Tex., June 17.-Sheriff White, Austin, and deputies returned from the scene of the Cedar Creek shooting yesterday morning. The loss of life was greater than at first stated. Six men are already dead, four more are dying. Three others of the wounded have some chance of recovery. This will make four white men and six negroes killed. A purshing party of whites early this morning found the negro constable Wilson in the woods, and called on him to surrender at once. He refused, and was riddled with bullets. Three hundred white men, armed and mounted, are scouring the country in search of negroes, it utevery black has fled, and not one is to be found in the entire community. The dead, six in number, were all buried in Cedar Creek yeaterday.

Left a Wife in England and Married Here. Frederick R. Scragg, twenty-seven years old, engineer in Douglass's paper factory, West Brighton, S. I., was arrested yesterday on a charge of bigamy. Elizabeth A. Seragg said she was married to the prisoner seven years ago in England. Their three children were all living. Three years ago her husband deserted her and her children, and she only learned of his whereabouts a few months ago. He had come to New York and she followed. She learned he had married another woman. The prisoner said his wife was unfaithful and he left her. He made the acquaintance of Miss Lizzie Hines, who was employed in the Status Island Dye Works, and they were married and a child was born to them. When Scragg was confronted with his first wife he wept and asked her to forgive him. Brighton, S. I., was arrested yesterday on a tion for weeks past, will be at an end before thirty-six hours have passed.

To-morrow's race will probably be the most interesting Suburban that the Eastern public has ever seen, and it is not at all unlikely that there will be 30,000 people present when the trumpeter sends the field to the post.

Hundreds journeyed to Sheepsnesd Bay yesterday and wandered all over the place in search of the latest and best information. Trainers, stable boys and jockeys were interviewed, but they professed to know nothing. One of the chief attractions was Terra Cotta, who arrived with Jimmy McLaughlin yesterday. This gallant chestnut, who might have won the Surburban last year had he known enough to stick out his tongue, is said to be in the finest condition possible. His trip from St. Louis, as well as the change of feed and water are likely to tell against him, however, as they did in the brooklyn Handicap. Jimmy McLaughlin will pilot him.

Another Western candidate is Byron Mc-will pilot him.

Another Western candidate is Byron Mc-Clelland's colt Badge.

He strived last week, and to hear his people talk one would think that there was only Badge, and nothing but Badge, in the race, It is not known yet who will ride him. Here is a complete list of probable starters:

H. Theobald's ch. c. Sobranje, 3...

This is a formidable array of horses and jockeys, and if it does not furnish a cracking race, there never will be one.

It is just as likely, however, that the stake will be pulled off by the outsider, as was the case last year when Elkwood won, and the year before when Eurus galloped home in the mud.

case last year when Elkwood won, and the year before when Eurus galloped home in the mud.

Mr. Haggin's Aurelia heads the list with top weight. Her wins this Spring have imposed twelve pounds benalty, and it might be that Mr. Haggin will not start her.

Dwyer Brothers have two entered, brother and sister, Inspector B, and Bella B.

The former carries a terrible load on his back, but he is in such first-class condition that with Isaac Murphy up the old horse may get there. Hella B. is also said to be good and George Taylor will ride her.

August Belmont's Raceland, with Snapper Garrison up, is very much lancied, and if it should rain before to-morrow many a dollar would be planked up on old Eurus, who will be ridden by the veteran, Billy Hayward.

The others are unknown quantities, but light weighted, and therefore, if they have any speed at all, are dangerous.

Joe Cotton thinks his three-year-old Carroll, with only 105 ib, to carry, has a very good chance, and lots of Jue's money has gone up on him.

Gorgo, Senator Hearst's entry, is a dangerous customer, but is said to be a doubtful starter.

One or two Clifton candidates are said to

One or two Clifton candidates are said to have a chance, and picking a winner would be like hunting for a needle in a haystack.

Starter Caldwell will send them on their way to-morrow, after first parading them before the stand. It will be a grand race, and probably the beat of the season.

SAMMY'S HEARTH DESOLATE

MOURNING OVER A VACANCY IN MRS. JAITLE'S HOUSEHOLD.

The Loved One Absconded Secretly Saturday Evening and Was Seen Leitering Away Towards Second Avenue... He Is Striped Like a Tiger and Looks Like a Lion-Reward Offered for His Return.

"Sammy " is lost, and it is feared that he will never be found. He spent Saturday evening sitting on the roof of his home, 210 East Twenty-third street, and seemed to be in a cheerful mood. About 9 o'clock he stepped over to another roof and chatted with a neighbor, and the two sang a duet with a good deal of skill and feeling. Then he returned to his own roof and, being in a whimsical mood, sat for a time on the chimney.

At 10 o'clock he hopped lightly from the chimney, and, without bidding the family good-by, walked downstairs.

He loitered before the front door for half an hour, enjoying the cool air and observing the people returning home from church. He then promenaded down the street towards Second avenue, and that is the last time that he was ever seen.

Second avenue, and that the beautiful to be was ever seen.

'' Sammy'' had boarded two years and five months with Mrs. Jaitle, a German lady, on the third floor, and she was much alarmed at his disappearance. When he did not return at the usual hour she hunted high and long for him.

turn at the usual hour she hunted high and low for him.

He had not gone to sleep on the stairs, nor was he on the roof, or in the street. No one would to'l where he had gone, though some one said that he had been loitering in a careless fashion towards Second avenue. Sunday passed and 'Sammy' did not return. He did not send any note or any message to explain where and why he had gone. Mrs. Jattle became very anxious on account of his disappearance, and had the following advertisement put in one of the morning newspapers.
